SHANTELLE GIEK- CLOUTIER

Shantelle Giek-Cloutier is a long-time sport leader, volunteer coordinator, and community builder with more than 20 years of experience across coaching, program development, youth mentorship, and organizational leadership. Her work has shaped youth sport across Alberta through grassroots development, inclusive programming, and a commitment to creating positive, empowering sport environments.

A former collegiate athlete at St. Mary's University College in Calgary, Shantelle went on to found the #1 Hoops program in Strathmore, where she championed access, mentorship, and athlete development. Her leadership continued with the Red Deer Ravens, serving as Executive Director and guiding regional program coordination, coach support, and team development.

In her current role with Central Sport, Shantelle works closely with local and provincial sport organizations to strengthen community sport through volunteer coordination, event support, and collaborative partnerships. She leads the onboarding of new organizations into the Central Sport directory, supports multi-sport events, and maintains strong relationships with sport leaders to ensure their needs are understood and represented.

Shantelle is known for her ability to build connections, identify opportunities for collaboration, and create welcoming environments where volunteers, athletes, and sport groups feel supported. She believes deeply in the power of sport to build confidence, community, and lifelong belonging.

As the Sports Association Chair on the 2026 Volunteer Advisory Board, Shantelle brings her experience, her passion for community-driven sport, and her commitment to strengthening the sport ecosystem across Canada.
